Faculty of Applied Science

The McEwen Family Teacher Recognition Award in the Faculty of Applied Science Nomination Form

The McEwen Family Teacher Recognition Award was established to shine the spotlight on the contributions high school teachers make to our students and communities through their mentorship. The award celebrates teachers who have gone well above and beyond teaching the curriculum, to provide opportunities for their students to succeed not just academically but personally as well.

Supporting Documentation

Please provide a letter (maximum two pages) outlining the positive impact this teacher had on your life and academic path, and why you believe s/he should receive the award.

Nominations should focus on activities beyond academic teaching excellence as the intent of the award is to recognize teachers who have provided guidance and assistance in personal, social and life transforming situations. Nominators must be students enrolled in the Faculty of Applied Science at UBC who have received their pre-university education in British Columbia or elsewhere in Canada. The teacher being nominated must also have been teaching in a Canadian school at the time of their interaction with the student.

Letters of support from other individuals who wish to support this nomination are also welcome in your nomination package.
